DYSTOPIAN LEGIONS is a fast-paced, action-packed 28mm scale tabletop game set in the exciting world of Dystopian Wars, where Victorian super science fiction has created a fascinating and brutal arena for a deadly world war.

Having brought carnage to the battlefield with giant tanks, massive airships and technologically advanced naval vessels it is time to get up close and personal. Now it is up to your platoons of infantry to storm enemy positions, capture towns, secure strategic objectives and devastate rival nations.

Infantry sections are the building block of Dystopian Legions, but we've created so much more for gamers to build their armies with. Also available for battlefield commanders will be elite infantry units, section upgrades, mechanised walkers, tankettes, armoured personnel carriers and special characters such as leaders and scientists who can inspire your men and cause fear in the enemy.

And if that isn't enough we've created full scale battle tanks, stoked full of detail and delivered in glorious high quality resin. Marvel at these giant behemoths of the battlefield...

The game is scalable from a small number of models right the way up to a full blown company of men with armoured support. A modular approach to army building guarantees the game embraces further new releases and game expansions.

Welcome to DYSTOPIAN LEGIONS... warfare just got so much more personal!

LEFT: Massive, powerful and scary! The Teutonic Knights of the Prussian Empire are a sight to behold as they lumber across the battlefield, their arm-guns blazing away and enemy troops falling before them.

Teutonic Knights are sold as what is known as an Elite Unit Upgrade. At the front of this image is the one and only Oberst (Colonel) Werner Hahl, one of Prussia's finest swordsmen and sold as a Character Figure in the game.

BELOW: It isn't looking very good for this section of Federated States of America (FSA) infantry, despite them having a 2-man LMG team attached. Maybe they didn't see the huge Teutonic Knight, or the Kettenkarre Tankette. Or maybe they have Sky Cavalry on their way, or a squad of Steambikes preparing a fast assault.

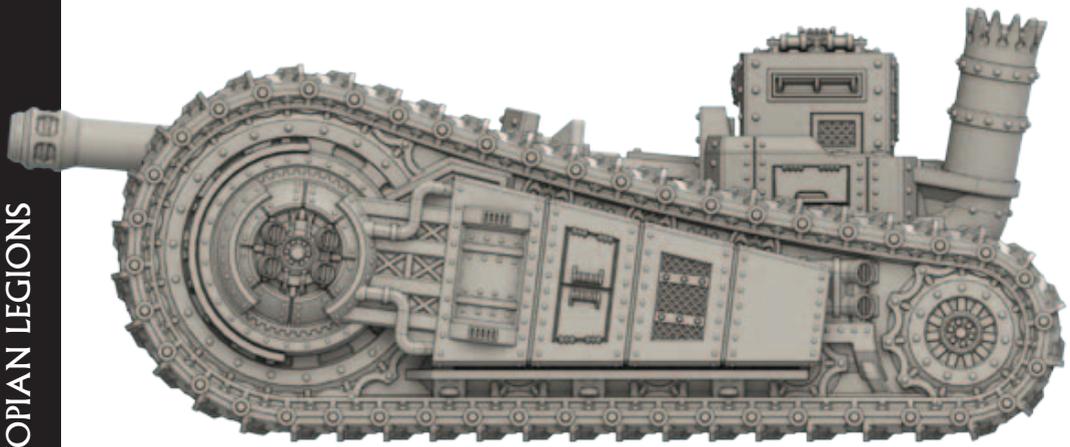

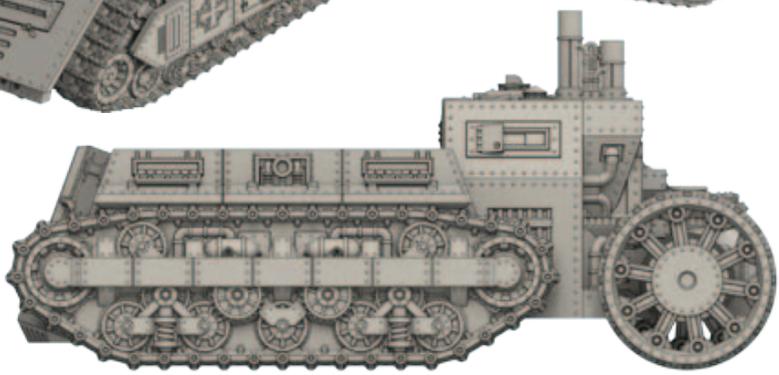

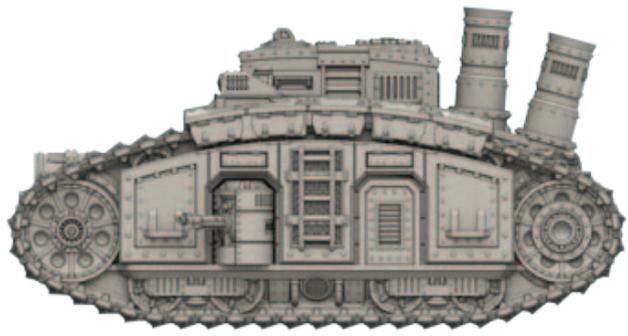

ABOVE: Oberleutnant Lily Reitsch, famous aerial ace of the Prussian Empire. She is a favourite of Sire Helbrecht, commander of the Air Force, and the inspiration for the DYSTOPIAN LEGIONS game.

BELOW: The infamous Shinobi, silent killers of the Empire of the Blazing Sun.
